DRY RAIDING MAY SOON BE PROFITABLE

REQUESTS SEPARATE BUREAU TO MEET LIQUOR PROBLEM

Assistant Secretary Andrews Predicts That In 6 Months Sufficient Revenue Will Be Obtained From Bootleggers to Pay Expenses, Afterward Enforcement Will Show Profit.

An administration program for a sweeping reorganization of the government's enforcement activities was taken up by the house ways and means committee in congress, while the dries and wets continued their charges and countercharges against each other.

Establishment of a separate prohibition bureau in the treasury department, as provided in a bill drafted by Representative Louis C. Cramton, of Michigan, Republican, was urged before the committee as an immediate "essential step" toward effective enforcement by Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary in charge of prohibition agencies in the treasury.

On the floor of the house, misrepresentations were charged by both sides of the controversy.

Representative Anthony Griffin, of New York, Democrat, urging immediate modification of the Volstead act and assailing the anti-saloon league, said it should be called the "Total Abstinence League."

Representative William L. Stevenson, South Carolina, Democrat, attacked the New York member's appeal for modification on the basis of personal liberty as "high-strung hypocrisy," and citing Mr. Griffin's vote in favor of the proposed child labor amendment.

Meanwhile, assistant secretary Andrews' offices sent an order to prohibition administrators throughout the country, announcing organization of especial squads of experts to cope with the industrial alcohol diversion situation, which he said, "is one of our biggest problems in the area east of the Ohio and north of the Potomac."

The treasury department has gone as far as it can centralizing its activities until "regularizing" registration is enacted, Mr. Andrews told the ways and means committee.

There can be no hope of efficient administration, he said, so long as the present organization stands.

A separate bureau, he predicted would obtain sufficient revenues from bootleggers to pay for its expenses in six months. After that, he predicted, enforcement would become profitable.

Andrew's present task of co-ordinating three units engaged in various phases of enforcement work is "too much for one man" he continued, urging bureau status also for the Coast Guard and Customs Service. The prohibition bureau, he said, should have the control of border patrols and of the issuance of permits for whisky withdrawals in order to prevent leakage.

States and local governments must relieve the federal government of much of the "police work," Representative Cramton said, but he thought this should not go so far as to allow lack of responsibility in one section to destroy effectiveness of the national program.

Challenged in the house to prove a

RABBIT BREEDERS.
Columbus, O., March 6, (UP) Any rabbit fanciers in your neighborhood?

The biological survey of the United States department of agriculture has sent to the agricultural college extension service at the Ohio State university urgent request for the names of all rabbit breeders in Ohio.

Why is it that a man with a beard always seems to like poached eggs?

statement that there were 400 "open saloons" in Baltimore, Representative Thomas L. Blanton, Texas, Democrat, undertook to give Representative John Philip Hill, Maryland, Republican, explicit directions as to where to find at least part of them.

"Go to Abe's Sea Food Place," he said, "there's a bar in the rear and you can get all the liquor you want."

"How does the gentleman know?" asked Mr. Hill.

"I've been there," replied the Texas Representative.

MISS MARY MILLER DEAD.

Miss Mary L. Miller, of Circleville, passed away at 7:30 o'clock Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Oliver, 178 Bridge street, Chillicothe, with whom she had been making her home. Death was due to paralysis and followed a three years' illness. She was born in this city 62 years ago, the daughter of Dr. James Miller and his wife, Louise Miller. She was a member of the Presbyterian church. Two brothers, Ed. Miller and Frank Miller, of Columbus, survive.

Funeral services were held at the Oliver home at 3 o'clock Saturday. Rev. P. B. Ferris officiated and interment was in Grandview cemetery.

The deceased was a cousin of the late John J. Patton, of this city, and at one time made her home with Mrs. Patton. The latter went to Chillicothe Friday to attend the funeral.

Commercial Aviator Displays Real Courage

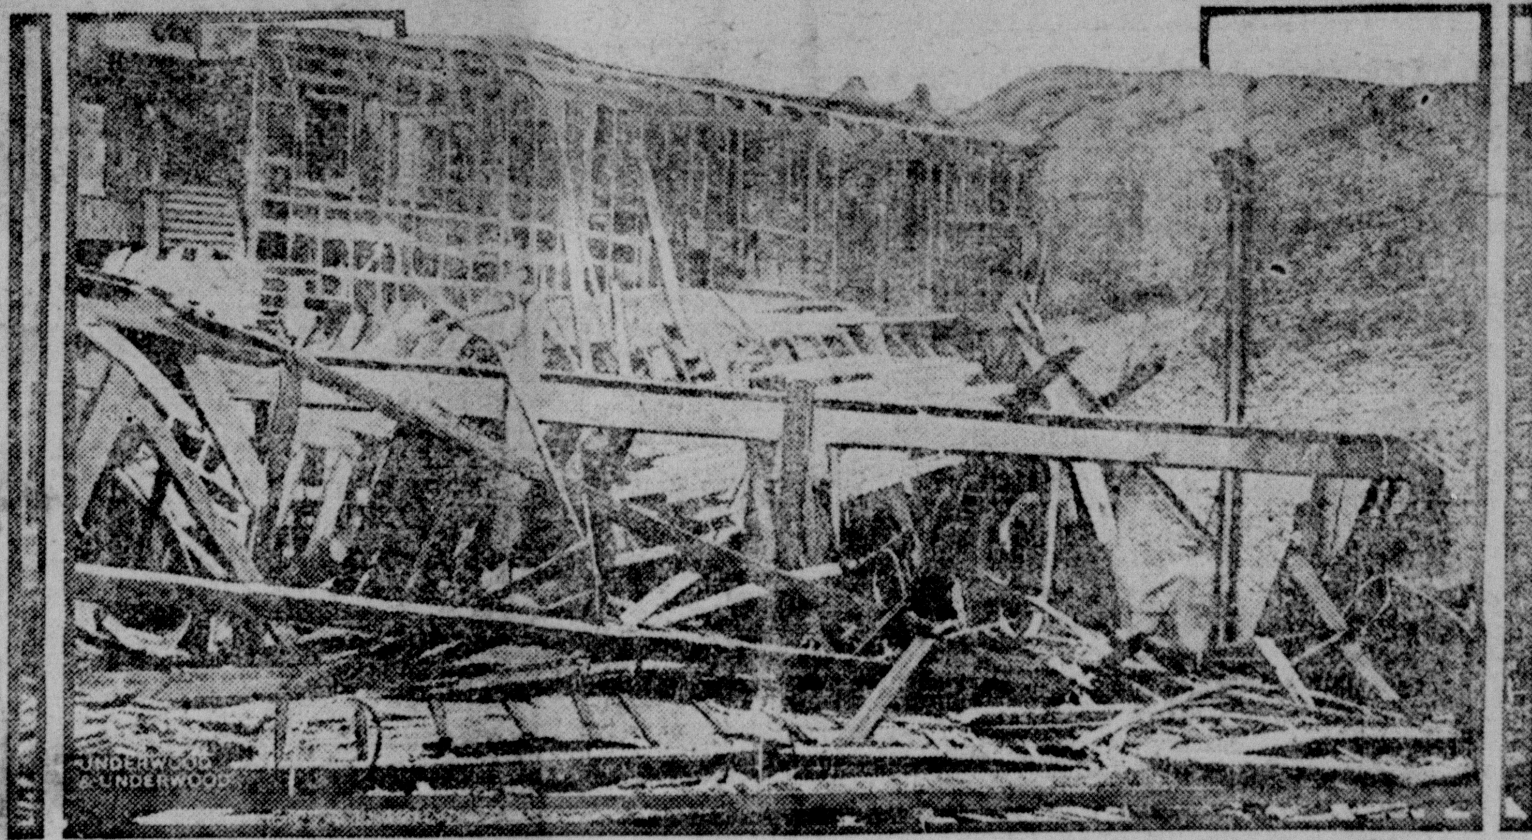

Rene Menard, a commercial aviator and former French flying ace, was making the run from Paris to Amsterdam alone in a big freight-carrying Farman plane when the plane caught fire. The gas tank was likely to explode, but with one hand before his eyes and the other hand on the wheel, Menard kept the flames away from the petrol supply by a series of drops until he reached the ground near St. Quentin. His hands were so badly burned that he was unable to unbuckle his belt. He lay across the tank while the flames burned far enough through the leather so that he could break it and roll clear. A moment later the tank exploded.

OLD FIDDLERS' CONTEST.

Entries for the Old Fiddlers' contest to be held at C. A. C. gym. Wednesday, March 10, started coming in at noon today and already nine local and nearby fiddlers have announced their intention of competing for the numerous prizes. In addition to the contest there will be old-time square dancing for the public and a number of vaudeville acts will be presented at intervals during the evening. Entries for the fiddlers' contest should be sent to the C. A. C. club room on Main street, Circleville.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From Wires By Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Lorain—Two men were killed and four freight cars completely burned when a Lake Shore Electric train of freight cars jumped the track on a curve two miles west of Lorain at 7:30 o'clock Saturday.

The two men were members of the crew. They were burned to death.

Cleveland—Two firemen narrowly escaped being burned to death Friday when fire of mysterious origin gutted the Cleveland Fibre Furniture company building in Garfield Heights. The firemen were plunged into the basement of the burning building when the second floor collapsed. They were rescued by other firemen. The loss to the furniture company was placed at $40,000.

Toledo—A jury retired here Friday to appraise the love of a 57 year old farmer.

Mrs. Clara E. Starr, wife of the farmer, prices her husband's love, now extinct she says at $35,000.

Defense attorneys contended Starr's love was "worthless" and that if it ever existed, the defendant, pretty Mrs. Dorothy Schreiber Linsey did not steal it.

Columbus—Hearings before the public utilities commission on proposed rate increases of the Logan Gas company stood adjourned Friday, subject to recall. The increase if granted, would affect more than 70 towns and villages.

Norwalk—Altho still at large indictments charging first degree murder and shooting to kill, were returned against James and Leonard Lyons by the county grand jury.

The brothers are charged with the slaying of Frank E. McGarth, special agent of the American Railway Express company, at Havana, Ohio, February 18.

Toledo—Two aged men were burned to death, four persons were rescued and 17 were made homeless when fire swept a rooming house in the downtown section Saturday.

Two men perished while trying to fight their way to the street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shepherd, an aged couple and Leo, 2, and Sylvia, 6 months old, children of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Bridges, were carried to safety.

Mrs. Ed. H. Wardell and children Lloyd and Dorothy, of Wayne township, spent the day in Columbus.

THAD BROWN CLUB FORMED IN LAKEWOOD

Two Hundred Villagers Working for Secretary of State as the Next Governor.

One of the most enthusiastic political clubs of the present year has just been organized by the Republicans in Lakewood, Cuyahoga county, where more than 200 of the villagers have enlisted in the Thad-Brown-For Governor club.

James C. Reasner, former president of the Lakewood Republican club is president, and to make things unanimous the only Republican paper published in the city has come out in a strong editorial for the present secretary of state. There is no question about the strength of Colonel Brown in the campaign his friends are making for his nomination to head the state ticket this fall, and already claims are being made of those who want to have the honor of being the original Thad Brown boosters. One thing is certain that while perhaps Colonel Brown will not be in the position of other candidates and have an unlimited bank account, he has a stronger asset in the record he has made in public life. And don't for a moment think the voters of Ohio don't look back of the bank roll and into the individual record of the candidate.

NEWS ABOUT COURT HOUSE

General Happenings Taken From the Records of the Various County Offices.

Granted Divorce.

In the divorce suit of Olcie I. Hughes against William V. Hughes in probate court, the defendant was granted a divorce in his answer and cross petition on charges of gross neglect and adultery. The parties were married in Springfield June 29, 1925, and have no children. M. C. Seyfert Jr., was plaintiff's attorney.

Appointed Administrator.

Lewis Dresbach has been appointed administrator of the estate of his father, George E. Dresbach.

Marriage License

Harry Bewton, 21, farmer, Waverly and Fern Peters, 16, Circleville. Father's consent.

ADMITTED TO PRACTICE LAW.

E. A. Wanner, editor of "Jeffrey Service" a paper issued at The Jeffrey Manufacturing company, Columbus, has been admitted to the bar and is now a full fledged lawyer. He married Miss Verna Neff, of this city, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Neff of East Union street.

Mr. Wanner had charge of the welfare department of the Jeffrey plant for a number of years. When he decided to study law, he discovered that he had to be a graduate of a high school before he could be admitted to the bar. He had not completed his work in the high school and went diligently to work studying at nights and also read law in the evening and passed a fine examination in school and was admitted to the bar.

TO STUDY GORILLA

Harry Rimmer, evangelist, author and lecturer, has announced his intention to head an expedition into the heart of Africa, where he will study the life and habits of the gorilla. This is the first practical demonstration of a fundamentalist minister seeking direct information on the absorbing question first propounded by Darwin in "The Descent of Man." The expedition will leave New York in June if present plans are not changed.

WITH SOUSA'S BAND.

Harold B. Stephens, soloist in Sousa's band, will arrive in Columbus March 9 after an absence of nine years for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stephens, and other friends. At close of concert the tour with the band he will go direct to Long Beach, California, where he will locate and become a member of the Municipal band of that place.

Columbus—No reason could be given today for the suicide of Mrs. Anna Ruth Garey, 26, who ended her life Friday night at the home of her husband's mother's home, by swallowing poison.

BIG PAYROLL CAPTURED IN "WINDY CITY"

Thugs in Chicago Secure $90,000 at the International Harvester Company.

Chicago, March 5, (P)—A bandit gang raided the tractor works of the International Harvester company this afternoon sent a score of employees scurrying to cover under a blaze of rifle fire, scooped up the company's payroll of approximately $90,000 and made their escape in two automobiles. Employees were quick to recover their nerve and the fleeing bandits were showered with bullets from windows of the plant.

John B. Daily, auditor; Frank Johnson, cashier, and Thayer Kennedy, a secretary were direct in line of the bandits' fire as they smashed their way thru the front door. Other employees said it was miraculous that none of the three was wounded as more than 30 shots were fired almost directly at them.

Kennedy was the first of the employees able to give a coherent story of the robbery. He related his experience as follows:

"The payroll had just been delivered. Daily and Johnson had taken it into the big glass case preparatory to paying the men off."

"Without a moment's warning the gang swarmed in the front door. From outside we heard a shot then several more. We found later these shots came from Jos. Gibbons, one of our watchmen, who was firing at the two sentries the bandits had left outside."

"The bandits who had come in thought the firing was in their direction, however and so they let go with rifles, revolvers and a sawed off shot gun."

"They were aiming right at me and so I ducked under a desk. I saw three girls faint and the others dropped to the floor to hide."

"The leader of the gang wore a mask and carried a sawed off shotgun. With the butt of the gun he smashed his way into the cage and grabbed the money box. Then he used hte butt again to smash thru the window and jumped out into the street."

"As soon as he had made his escape from the building the other members of the party hurried out the door, aiming their guns at us as they left, warning us to "be quiet."

"I was watching everything from under the desk and as soon as I was sure they were all out I ran to the cage and grabbed a revolver. Daily and Johnson, who had been hiding behind a door, did the same. We ran to the broken window and fired after the two automobiles but I doubt if we hit any of them."

A pedestrian was able to take the license number of one of the motor cars and hurried investigation disclosed the fact that the machine had been stolen Friday night.

Despite the fact that at least 30 shots were fired it was believed no one was hit.

FARMERS' READING.

Columbus, Ohio, March 6, (UP) The Ohio Farmers' reading season is now at its height, judging by the deluge of requests for bulletins and circulars coming into the agricultural publications office at the Ohio State university.

To maintain the 800 bulletins sent out daily, takes 22 tons of paper, enough to make a carload, during the last fiscal year, according to the annual report of J. E. McClintock, head of the agricultural publications department.

The Home Painter

When painting anything at all be sure that the first coat is dry before applying the second. You will only waste time and paint and make a poor job of it if the surface is not thoroughly dry.

WASHINGTON SPECIALS

Washington, March 4.—(UP.)—The dizzy drop of the New York stock market is due to the manipulation of professional traders and will not effect prosperity of banks and business houses, Chairman Smoot, of the Senate finance committee, who usually expresses the view of the administration when he speaks upon financial matters, declared today. "Bankers and business men are paying no attention to the market" the Utah senator told the United Press, "because they know they will not be affected."

Demand for enacting legislation placing agriculture on an equality with other industries was made today before the House agriculture committee by Governor John Hamill, Iowa. "It is unfair," Hamill declared, "to require one-third of the people to feed the other two-thirds at a loss. Agriculture is not asking for paternalism but simply seeks establishment of machinery to help it. If the proper aid is extended to agriculture, it will soon be able to stand on its own feet."

A convention between the United States and Cuba for prevention of liquor smuggling was signed today at Havana.

Physicians have ordered Senator Charles E. Curtis, Republican floor leader, Kansas, to go South immediately for his health and he will leave Washington this afternoon for Florida. Curtis has been suffering from quinsy for several weeks. He was confined to his bed, but returned to the Senate a few days ago.

Establishment of a forestry experiment station in the Ohio-Mississippi valley to encourage growth of timber in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and parts of Kentucky, Tennessee and Iowa, was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio. An appropriation of $30,000 was asked.

A new reclamation relief program has been worked out by the Senate irrigation bloc and Secretary Work, by which the government will finance settlers upon Western irrigation projects. Arrangements have been made whereby a bill will be introduced shortly authorizing an appropriation of $500,000 for distribution to settlers under Work's direction. The interior department bill will be held until the authorization is adopted and then provision for the appropriation will be made in it, according to present plans.

The so-called all-American ship canal connecting the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean running across New York state and down the Hudson river from Albany was described in a special report to the war department today "as feasible but not economically desirable."

Cancer Did Not Kill Napoleon, Says Physician

Leeds, England.—Napoleon the Great did not die of cancer, declared Sir Berkeley Moynihan, a well-known surgeon of Leeds, addressing the Leeds Luncheon club.

"I have had the opportunity of examining the viscera of Napoleon and found that there was absolutely no trace of cancer," he said.

Sir Berkeley, speaking of the increase in cancer of the tongue, caused chiefly by smoking, said:

"At present women are almost exempt, but I think they have a future in that direction, in view of the rapid spread of the smoking habit among girls, their mothers and their aunts."

FREE SPEECH

At University of Minnesota To Be Asked of Legislature.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 4.—(UP.)—Petitions said to contain hundreds of undergraduates' signatures were circulated on the University of Minnesota campus today, protesting arbitrary barring of speakers, proposing to speak before students on the campus.

Denial of the right to speak before student assemblies within the last week to Scott Nearing, noted radical, and Dr. W. B. Riley, fundamentalist minister, stirred students to the action.

Dr. Riley is also taking a hand in the matter, threatening to ask for a court injunction against the university administration and to go before the legislature to fight for free speech at the state institution.

APPROPRIATE PLANS

The fact that the session of the

National Grange in Maine next November will be the 60th annual gathering of this oldest of all farm organizations will be made the occasion for a great jubilee event, attracting farm leaders from all parts of the nation. Not only is the class to receive there the seventh degree likely to break all records but vigorous declarations of policy will then be made, indicating future Grange fighting lines on behalf of agriculture and the rural interests. Men prominent in the councils of the nation are also expected to address the convention.

Herron Mystery Believed Solved With Arrest of Negro Who Was Near Scene of Crime.

Steubenville, March 4.—"I believe we have the right man," declared Prosecutor Roy N. Merryman tonight, after several persons identified John Cook, 27, as the negro seen in the vicinity of the farm where Robert Herron and his sister, Nettie, were found slain Wednesday. Cook has denied any knowledge of the crime.

It was learned today that Cook was employed as a farmhand on the Herron farm two years ago.

Mrs. J. C. Maxwell and her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Clutter of Winterville, tonight identified Cook as the man who spent half an hour in their confectionery Tuesday afternoon, a short time after the murder is supposed to have been committed. The statements of the women corroborate Coroner Arch L. Bell, who saw Cook board a bus near the Herron farm Tuesday and leave it at Winterville.

Cook was confronted with the rope and bloody mattock tonight, but said he had never seen them before. A blood-stained cap which he wore when arrested was sent to a Pittsburgh chemist for examination.

The double funeral of the murder victims will be held Saturday.

Charles Fredrick Gortner, of Greenfield, Massachusetts, brother of Miss Emma Gortner, of 3451 North High street and H. M. Gortner of 69 North Princeton avenue, Columbus, February 28, at the age of 54 years. He was a son of the late Rev. Henry Gortner of Amanda, Ohio. He formerly was superintendent of the J. J. Little Printing company, of New York City but for the last 20 years had been manager of the Robert F. Kerr Co., of Greenfield, Massachusetts, manufacturers of book plates for various New York and Boston publishers. Mr. Gortner leaves his wife, two sons and two daughters, also two other brothers S. A. Gortner of Lancaster and W. N. Gortner, of Amanda, and another sister, Mrs. George W. Metzger, of Wasterville.
Funeral services were held at New Canaan, Connecticut, Tuesday.

PROMISING YOUNG LIFE TERMINATED

Miss Catherine Chambers Passed Away Friday at Home of Her Parents.

Miss Mary Catharine Chambers died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Chambers, 220 East Mound street, Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Her death was due to leukaemia.
The deceased was born in Pickaway township, September 20, 1908, and was the pianist of Samuel B. and Sarah Jane Gayman Chambers.
She was to be a graduate from the Circleville high school this year. She was also the pianist for the Epworth League of the Methodist church.
Besides her parents she is survived by two brothers; Gayman Chambers, of Columbus, and Hunter Chambers, of Bristol, Tennessee.
The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at the M. E. church at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. A. H. Beardsley assisted by Rev. E. K. Johnson, of Newark, will officiate. Interment in the Kingston cemetery.

AGRICULTURAL PROSPECTS FOR NEXT SEASON

Columbus, O., March 6, (UP) — A preliminary survey of agricultural prospects for the coming season, says director of agriculture Charles V. Truax, reveals the fact that a reasonable supply of all feed grains will be available thruout the summer. The outlook for livestock is for an increase in numbers with reasonable prices prevailing, it was the opinion of the director.
The closing weeks of winter find farms in a normal condition with a more prosperous future with the advent of the spring planting season.

"The Student Prince" the most sumptuous operetta ever produced by the Messrs. Shubert and considered the crowning musical achievement of a decade, will begin a week's engagement at the Hartman theater, Columbus, Monday night, March 8, at 8:15.
It will be remembered that when this fascinating musical play was presented here earlier in the season an extra matinee had to be given to accommodate the crowds wishing to witness it.
The company that will present the operetta is the Chicago cast and chorus which has been playing at the Great Northern theater for more than a year and is headed by Dixon Frasier, the well known tenor in the role of the prince, and Eileen Van Biene, popular prima-donna in the role of Kathie. Other well known artists in the cast are Eddie Garvie, Patricia Ann Manners, Georgie Mack Evelyn Darville, Walter McNally, Ann Carey, Otis Sheridan, Charlotte Granville, Walter Tenny, James Phillips, Clyde Moffet, John Goldsworthy, Timothy Daley, James Murray and others of note. The famous male chorus and the charming altos and sopranos all go to make up an organization of more than 125 trained singers.
It will be recalled that the story is about the young Prince Karl Franz, who is sent away to Hendeberg for a year of study, only to be recalled to Karlsburg and the throne upon the untimely death of his aged grandfather, the king. In the meanwhile he has fallen in love with Kathie, a pretty waitress at the Inn of the Three Golden Apples, and altho his troth is pledged to the Princess Margaret Alexis, his cousin, whom he eventually marries, he never forgets Little Kathie, and in one of the sweetest and most touching scenes ever written, he goes back to the Inn looking for the sweetheart of his student days, but finds she is engaged to wed another. The thrilling, soul-stirring musical score by Sigmund Romberg has never been equalled.
Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday afternoon at 2:15. Mail orders now.

Just a Lover's Quarrel
By CYNTHIA BLAIR
(Copyright.)

"BUT Ned's wrong!" protested Helena Deland, dropping down on the top step of the porch, and tossing her big sun hat from her so hard that it fell into the bed of petunias nearby. "He just simply won't listen to reason. We've argued for three days over this thing, and I'm just about ready to tell him that I'm through! It seems queer, when we love each other so much, that we could quarrel so over a little bit of a thing. But when I realize how stubborn he is—"
"Yes, I know, but—well, just listen to a little story that I'm going to tell you." Granny leaned back in her low chair, rocking gently back and forth for a moment, looking off over the gay little garden as if she didn't see it at all, but saw far into the past instead.
"This happened when your grand father and I were on our honeymoon," she began at last; the faint creaking of a board beneath her chair made a soft accompaniment to her voice. "We went abroad, though everybody told us that it was just tempting fate for a newly married couple to take such a long trip. Traveling is so hard on people's dispositions! We got along beautifully, though, all through England and France.
"Then we went to Italy. It was pretty warm there, and pretty dirty. "Well, we left Venice one very hot evening to go to Florence. We'd expected to have a sleeping compartment, but somehow when we got on the train there wasn't one.
"How about it, Em? your grandfather said. 'Are you game to go on anyhow?'
"I said I was. We were going to stop in Florence just a few days, and then start home, and I was getting anxious to go. I wanted to come back to my new little house here, you see, and really settle down. So we went right on. It meant sitting up all night, as there were two other persons in the compartment that we had to take, which was big enough for six; we could just sort of lie down, but that was all.
"Well, at first it wasn't so bad, though the train was pretty dirty. After awhile, just as we were leaving a town, Tom leaned forward—he was sitting across from me—and said:
"Em, did you notice the name of that town we just left? I'd like to know where we are on the map."
"It happened I'd noticed the sign over one of the doors. 'Yes, it was Intrata,' I said, 'or Intrata.'"
"When we got to the next town he looked out, as we went right through. 'That was Uscita,' he said, 'but I can't find it on the map.'"
"We didn't stop at the next town either, but I saw the sign over one of the doors there. Tom didn't.
"Why, Tom, you were wrong about that last town," I told him. "This one we've just gone through was Uscita."
"It couldn't be; that was the name of the last one," he answered, sort of short with me.
"Well, we argued about it. I told him I could believe my own eyes. I guessed, never remembering that he was sensitive about being near-sighted, and he said he'd learned to read when he was five—he was always awfully proud of that—and he couldn't be mistaken.
"Well, finally, I just stopped talking. 'Maybe I'm crazy,' I said to him, 'but I know what I saw over that door. I'm not going to talk about it any longer.'"
"He leaned back in his corner with the most exasperated look on his face that I ever saw. 'I don't have to talk any more,' he said. 'I know that I was right.'"
"When we came to the next town we were both pretty eager to see what the name of it was. We leaned way out of the window. And over the first door of the station it said 'Intrata' or 'Entrata.' I never did get that word quite straight in my mind, and over the next one it said 'Uscita.'"
"We just looked at each other as if we'd lost our minds. And then Tom went into the next compartment where there was a man who'd stayed at the hotel where we were in Venice who spoke Italian. He came back laughing fit to kill.
"We were both right, Em," he said. "And we were both wrong. One of those words means 'Entrance' and the other means 'Exit.'"
She laughed softly at the little picture memory had brought up, and Helena laughed with her.
Other thoughts came swarming to her. Grandpa'd been gone for five years now, and no matter how hard granny tried to fill her days with interest in her grandchildren and her garden and her charities, there were many times when she just sat looking at grandpa's picture and thinking of him. She was lonely then; one look at her sweet little face made that plain enough.
Suddenly Helena jumped up, snatched her hat out of the petunias and put it on hind side before with out even noticing that fact.
"Thanks, granny," she cried, hastily kissing the old lady's cheek. "It's almost lunch time and Ned will be coming home. I've got to get there first and make a shortcake for him—and be waiting when he gets there to tell him we're both right!"

GLEE CLUB OF WESLEYAN IS IN CONTEST

Delaware, O., March 6, (UP) —Ohio colleges and universities were represented in the national intercollegiate glee club contest held in New York today by the Ohio Wesleyan university glee club, winners of the fourth annual Ohio Intercollegiate Glee club contest held here February 19.
The Ohio Wesleyan club made the trip to New York in a special Pullman car which also served as their hotel during their stay in New York. Professor Guy L. McLean, director of the club and 24 students made the trip. They stopped at Washington yesterday enroute to New York, for a concert.
The Ohio Wesleyan Glee club will make several records for a nationally known recording company while in New York.

AMUSEMENTS

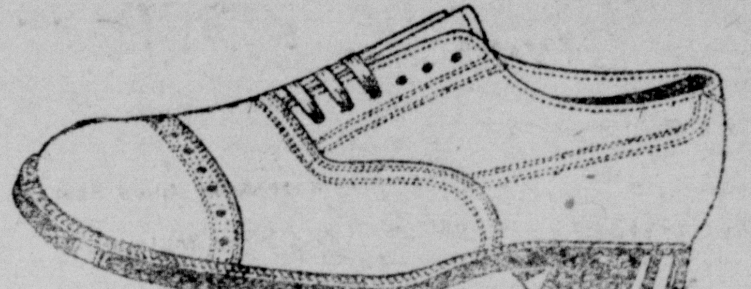

A picture of undoubted import to this year's motion picture contributions is "Sun-Up" which comes to the Met theater on Monday. It is a Metro Goldwyn-Mayer picture and was directed by Edmund Goulding.
Goulding is well known as a writer and scenarist. He has written the best seller "Fury," several of the starring vehicles for Mae Murray, and is co-author of "Dancing Mothers," one of the most successful plays now running in its second year in New York.
"Sun-Up" as conceived for the stage by Lula Vollmer, created a sensation on the stage in New York and on tour with Lucille La Verne playing the part of "Ma" Cagle, the same role she interprets in the screen version. According to advance reports the screen version is even more powerful in its dramatic sweep than the stage play.
Those two favorites, Pauline Starke and Conrad Nagel are featured in leading roles. Nagel plays the part of the lawless mountain boy to whom understanding comes thru contact with the outer world gained during the war. Miss Starke is his sweetheart and is said to give her finest and most sympathetic performance in an exceedingly difficult role.
George K. Arthur gets away from the type of role he has been playing as the "stranger." He characterizes an army deserter who is sheltered by "Ma" Cagle during her son's absence in the army.
Other members of the cast are Arthur Rankin, Sam De Grasse, Edward Connelly and Bainard Beckwith.

IF YOU HAVE A DAUGHTER

Did you ever stop to think what effect the furnishings of your daughter's bed room will have upon her? Make her room so attractive that she will want to stay at home, and will want her girl friends to come and see her room.
We have a beautiful six piece bed room suite that would make a very attractive suite for a young lady's room. It is far more attractive than the one shown above. We have no picture of the one we have in mind. The suite consists of bed, vanity, low-boy, bench, rocker, and night-table. It is made of Wild Cherry veneers in combination with other woods. The finish is known as Blistered Cherry. It is very beautiful and we want you to come and see it. The price? We almost forgot about that.
All six pieces for less than $300—$285.00, to be exact with a discount of $14.25, if you pay cash. We have but one suite in Cherry and cannot promise delivery of any more within four months. That's how well this suite is selling elsewhere. So, don't delay, but come in right away and order it sent out for the daughter's room.

GREAT WASTE IN PRINTING STATE BOOKS

Committee Finds Tons of Unwanted Documents and Reports in State House.

Members of the Legislative Printing for Economy in public printing, have discovered what they believe to be a good reason for carrying on their work.

In the basement of the state house the members, while making a tour on investigation, discovered pile upon pile of old state reports and documents which have lain there for years unused and unwanted. Some dated back to administrations of the late nineties and the early part of the present century. They were printed with the expectation that there might be a call. When this did not come they were simply laid away so as not to take up space in the office of the different state departments. There they have been since. Enough were found to load a truck and perhaps require a second load.

The committee believes that this same practice may be going on now. If it is the members propose to stop it and have nothing printed except that for what there is a demand and will be used. In this way it is figured thousands upon thousands of dollars can be saved each year.

Senators James R. Hopley, Bucyrus; chairman; C. C. Chappelle, Circleville, secretary and Harry M. Carpenter, Steubenville, compose the membership.

MOONSHINERS IN THE HILLS NEAR ATHENS

Athens, O., March 5, (UP.—From out of the maze of rocky declivities surrounding Athens, prohibition agents again came today, this time riding two trucks required to transport the produce of another moonshine raid.

The raid was the eleventh of sensational nature in this region within the month. It netted six giant stills, 1000 gallons of mash and a mass of other liquor making apparatus.

The raiders were led by State Dry Inspector H. A. Sines, who in his latest anti-liquor crusade, besieged an old mine near Doanville. The apparatus was discovered in the mine after the supposed moonshiners—numbering three, Sines said, fled.

The abandoned mine was only one of a score being put to a similar use, Sines declared.

"The mine is the hardest we've struck, to get into and the easiest for the operators to escape," he said.

Within three days Sines' men swam into two flooded mines and after groping about thru hundreds of feet of water filled passages, emerged with dismantled stills.

"The men operating the stills escape every time," Sines said. "We are not acquainted with the topography of the country and naturally encounter difficulties in corralling them."

Threads that set off alarm clocks were used in warning some of the distillers when officers approached the old mines, Sines said, adding that his men had found entrances to subterranean chambers in dirty hog pens, under overturned automobiles and in movable shrubbery.

Taking Depositions To Refute Charges Made Against Her By Her Bootlegger Husband.

Atlanta, Ga., March 4.—(UP.)—Seeking to obtain evidence in refutation of charges made by her husband, millionaire ex-convict and bootlegger king, that she was intimate with Franklin P. Dodge, former department of justice agent, Mrs. George Remus subpoenaed 21 witnesses to make depositions today.

Dodge was the agent who investigated affairs at the federal prison last year when it was alleged Remus and other wealthy prisoners were given special privileges.

The divorce action will be heard in Cincinnati soon.

HUMAN SHIELD

Killed In Gun Battle Between Policeman and Gunman.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 4.—(UP.)—Used as a shield by a policeman in a pistol battle with a negro gunman, a second negro was shot to death and the policeman and his opponent were wounded today.

The dead man, Wilbert McQueen, arrested by Patrolman Wilbur Jones as a hold-up suspect was fired on by Frank Harris, McQueen's companion. Holding McQueen in front of him as a shield Jones returned Harris' fire, wounding him with two bullets in the chest. One of Harris' bullets struck the policeman in the arm, another striking McQueen in the abdomen, wounding him fatally.

MURDERER

Has Nerves—Death Watch Driving Him Mad.

Manila, P. I., March 4.—(UP.)—Constant pacing of the death watch guards past the barred windows of his cell is rapidly breaking down the mind and health of Lieutenant John Thompson, sentenced to die for the murder of his sweetheart, Audrey Burleigh.

A missionary friend of the family visited Thompson and found him pacing his cell on the verge of a nervous collapse. The prisoner pleaded for the removal of the guard declaring the monotonous tramping was driving him insane.

Military authorities are awaiting President Coolidge's official confirmation of the court-martial sentence before setting the date of the execution.

"EVERYBODY'S DOING IT"

Benton, Ill., March 4.—(UP.)—This town has discovered the Charleston.

The whole town is so wild about it that everybody including the sheriff, turned out for a contest last night.

As a result the six prisoners in the county jail here walked out. Today not only the sheriff but all the candidates for that office at the next election and half the Charleston fans turned out to look for them.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?
"A very difficult question," the President calls the traffic casualties of the time. The figures that he cites—24,000 persons killed in a year upon the streets and highways of the country, and probably more than 500,000 injured. This means that over a period of the same length as our participation in the world war Americans are losing three-fourths as many lives on streets and roads as they lost to German bullets, and running up in addition a non-fatal casualty list thrice as great as they did abroad.

"The president has asked all the governors to appoint delegates to a national safety convention to assemble in March. While we know of no formula to meet the situation he has outlined the conference may write history by focusing public attention on the national aspects of a problem made up of a multitude of incidents at street corners and cross roads. Many communities are at work seeking and applying remedies.

The figures set forth in this article certainly ought to be a very convincing argument for

Soy Beans Best Planted in Rows

Make More Seed and Hay Per Acre Than Drilled or Broadcast.

In many sections where soy beans are not well known and are not grown extensively, many farmers have asked for information about how to plant the beans for best results. E. C. Blair, extension agronomist at the North Carolina State college, states that the beans will do better if planted in rows. Grown this way, the beans make more seed and more hay per acre than when drilled or broadcast.

Contain Much Weed Seed.
At the Mountain Branch station near Swannanoa, the hay from soy beans planted broadcast contained 50 per cent or more of weeds, while there were no weeds in the hay where the beans were cultivated in rows. Planting in rows also requires only half as much seed.

"Land to be planted in soy beans should be well broken and worked into a good seed bed," says Mr. Blair. "This careful preparation will pay better for soy beans than for most other crops. Run the rows three feet apart and place the fertilizer in the rows. The best fertilizer is 300 to 400 pounds per acre of 12-0-4 or the same amount of a 12-2-4 on poor soils. Mix the fertilizer in the soil to avoid burning the seed. Forty pounds of Mammoth Yellow, 15 pounds of Virginia or ten pounds of Laredo be, as will plant an acre in rows three feet apart. Plant the beans with a corn planter, using a plate that drops a seed every six inches. For the small seeded varieties, use a plate with small holes. Plant the beans level and cover lightly. They will not come up if covered deeply, nor will they come through a hard crust."

Three Cultivations.
Mr. Blair states that cultivation should begin when the plants are from five to six inches high. Three cultivations are usually enough but more should be given if necessary to control grass and weeds. By following these suggestions, Mr. Blair believes that the grower can have success with the soy bean crop.

Orchardists Prepare to Fight Armies of Pests

Farmers are making ready for the annual defense against the onslaught of great armies of pests which attack fruit trees.

In their preparation they are heeding the two mistakes which heretofore have been most commonly made in spraying, that of falling to spray at the proper time and lack of thorough work. They are planning to do the job up right this year.

While it is difficult to lay down any hard and fast rules with regard to spraying, James G. Moore, horticulturist of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture points out a few fundamental facts which can be followed. The spray commonly used for general work is made up by mixing five quarts of lime sulphur and one pound of arsenate of lead in fifty gallons of water.

The first spray is commonly called "pink spray" and should be used just before the blossom buds open. Care should be taken not to spray with poison when the blossoms are open.

The second spray, called "calyx spray," should be applied just as soon as the petals fall and before the calyx cup closes. A third spray should be applied fifteen or eighteen days later, and the fourth application about the middle of August on late varieties.

Disease Control

Disease control and sanitation are most important in poultry management. Lack of knowledge of the presence of disease and the method of combating it or the non-application of this knowledge has caused many flocks to be destroyed in a very short time. The loss is enormous and yet is preventable.

There is one absolute rule in poultry sanitation and disease control.

Time to Apply Manure

Midwinter is the time of the year when both the garden and orchard should be covered with barnyard manure. If it is hauled out and distributed as it is made about the barns and sheds, the soil will absorb nearly all of the plant nutrients contained in it. Twenty tons per acre for the vegetable garden and bramble patch and five to ten tons per acre for the orchard make a fair application.

Handling Seed Corn

Seed corn should be carefully sorted and prepared for planting during the slack winter months. It is an excellent plan before this is done to take kernels from 100 or 200 representative ears for a germination test. This will frequently give valuable indications as to how much sorting must be done. The state seed laboratory at Manhattan, Kan., will germinate the samples free of charge.

Time to Fight Scale

Again it is the time of year to spray the orchard for San Jose scale. This can only be done while the orchard is dormant, and the best time is in the late winter. A strong spray can be applied at that time, which will kill the scale but will not injure the tree. Oil scaleicides are most suitable and most effective.

Early American History

The Continental congress was in session at intervals from September 5, 1774, to October 21, 1788, at Philadelphia; Baltimore; Lancaster, Pa.; York, Pa.; Princeton, N. J.; Annapolis, Md.; Trenton, N. J., and New York City and was served throughout its history by 18 Presidents, including John Hancock, elected thirteenth President in 1785, but who was sick and did not serve.

PRESBYTERIAN ENDAVORERS GIVE PAGEANT

"Heart of the Dream" Sunday Evening—Public is Cordially Invited.

"The Heart of the Dream" will be presented by Christian Endeavorers of the Presbyterian church Sunday evening, March 7, at 7 o'clock.

Story In Brief.

We all have a dream or an ideal, but sometimes, because of our eagerness to attain success and wealth, we think only of our own selfish interests, and, our dream or ideal dies. The church personified restores our dream and proves to us that in every phase of life, the spirit of love must reign in order to make a perfect dream. Famous Old Bell

Bells were used in very ancient times by the Jews, Greeks and Romans. The great bell at Moscow, Russia, was cast in 1736, and cracked in the following year. Its weight is said to be about twelve tons. The metal in the bell is estimated to be worth $330,000. When it was being cast gold and silver are said to have been thrown into the molten mass as votive offerings.

CIRCLEVILLE BOYS VISITED NELSONVILLE

Order of Jerusalem Conferred on Class of Fourteen in Athens County.

Friday night, March 5, fourteen members of chapter No. 3, Kappa Sigma Pi, conferred the degree, The Order of Jerusalem, on eleven charter members of the Nelsonville chapter. At 6 o'clock the thoughtful mothers of the Nelsonville chapter served a sumptuous dinner to the members of both organizations. The decorations were worked out in the K. S. P. colors.

The local boys have spent much time in preparation for this work and were in fine form. It was presented in a most impressive manner. The new chapter has a fine group of clean cut, straightforward young men and we bespeak for them great success in their new venture in trying to raise the standards of living in their community.

DRY RAIDING MAY SOON BE PROFITABLE

REQUESTS SEPARATE BUREAU TO MEET LIQUOR PROBLEM

Assistant Secretary Andrews Predicts That In 6 Months Sufficient Revenue Will Be Obtained From Bootleggers to Pay Expenses, Afterward Enforcement Will Show Profit.

An administration program for a sweeping reorganization of the government's enforcement activities was taken up by the house ways and means committee in congress, while the dries and wets continued their charges and counteraccusations against each other.

Establishment of a separate prohibition bureau in the treasury department, as provided in a bill drafted by Representative Louis C. Cramton, of Michigan, Republican, was urged before the committee as an immediate "essential step" toward effective enforcement by Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary in charge of prohibition agencies in the treasury.

On the floor of the house, misrepresentations were charged by both sides of the controversy. Representative Anthony Griffin, of New York, Democrat, urging immediate modification of the Volstead act and assailing the anti-saloon league, said it should be called the "Total Abstinence League."

Representative William L. Stevenson, South Carolina, Democrat, attacked the New York member's appeal for modification on the basis of personal liberty as "high-strung hypocrisy," and citing Mr. Griffin's vote in favor of the proposed child labor amendment.

Meanwhile, assistant secretary Andrews' offices sent an order to prohibition administrators throughout the country, announcing organization of especial squads of experts to cope with the industrial alcohol diversion situation, which, he said, "is one of our biggest problems in the area east of the Ohio and north of the Potomac."

The treasury department has gone as far as it can centralizing its activities until "regularizing" registration is enacted, Mr. Andrews told the ways and means committee.

There can be no hope of efficient administration, he said, so long as the present organization stands.

A separate bureau, he predicted would obtain sufficient revenues from bootleggers to pay for its expenses in six months. After that, he predicted, enforcement would become profitable.

Andrew's present task of co-ordinating three units engaged in various phases of enforcement work is "too much for one man," he continued, urging bureau status also for the Coast Guard and Customs Service. The prohibition bureau, he said, should have the control of border patrols and of the issuance of permits for whisky withdrawals in order to prevent leakage.

States and local governments must relieve the federal government of much of the "police work," Representative Cramton said, but he thought this should not go so far as to allow lack of responsibility in one section to destroy effectiveness of the national program.

RABBIT BREEDERS.

Columbus, O., March 6, (UP) Any rabbit fanciers in your neighborhood?

The biological survey of the United States department of agriculture has sent to the agricultural college extension service at the Ohio State university urgent request for the names of all rabbit breeders in Ohio.

Why is it that a man with a beard always seems to like poached eggs?

statement that there were 400 "open saloons" in Baltimore, Representative Thomas L. Blanton, Texas, Democrat, undertook to give Representative John Philip Hill, Maryland, Republican, explicit directions as to where to find at least part of them.

"Go to Abe's Sea Food Place," he said, "there's a bar in the rear and you can get all the liquor you want."

"How does the gentleman know?" asked Mr. Hill.

"I've been there," replied the Texas Representative.

MISS MARY MILLER DEAD.

Miss Mary L. Miller, of Circleville, passed away at 7:30 o'clock Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Oliver, 178 Bridge street, Chillicothe, with whom she had been making her home. Death was due to paralysis and followed a three years' illness. She was born in this city 62 years ago, the daughter of Dr. James Miller and his wife, Louise Miller. She was a member of the Presbyterian church. Two brothers, Ed. Miller and Frank Miller, of Columbus, survive.

Funeral services were held at the Oliver home at 3 o'clock Saturday. Rev. P. B. Ferris officiated and interment was in Grandview cemetery.

The deceased was a cousin of the late John J. Patton, of this city, and at one time made her home with Mrs. Patton. The latter went to Chillicothe Friday to attend the funeral.

Commercial Aviator Displays Real Courage

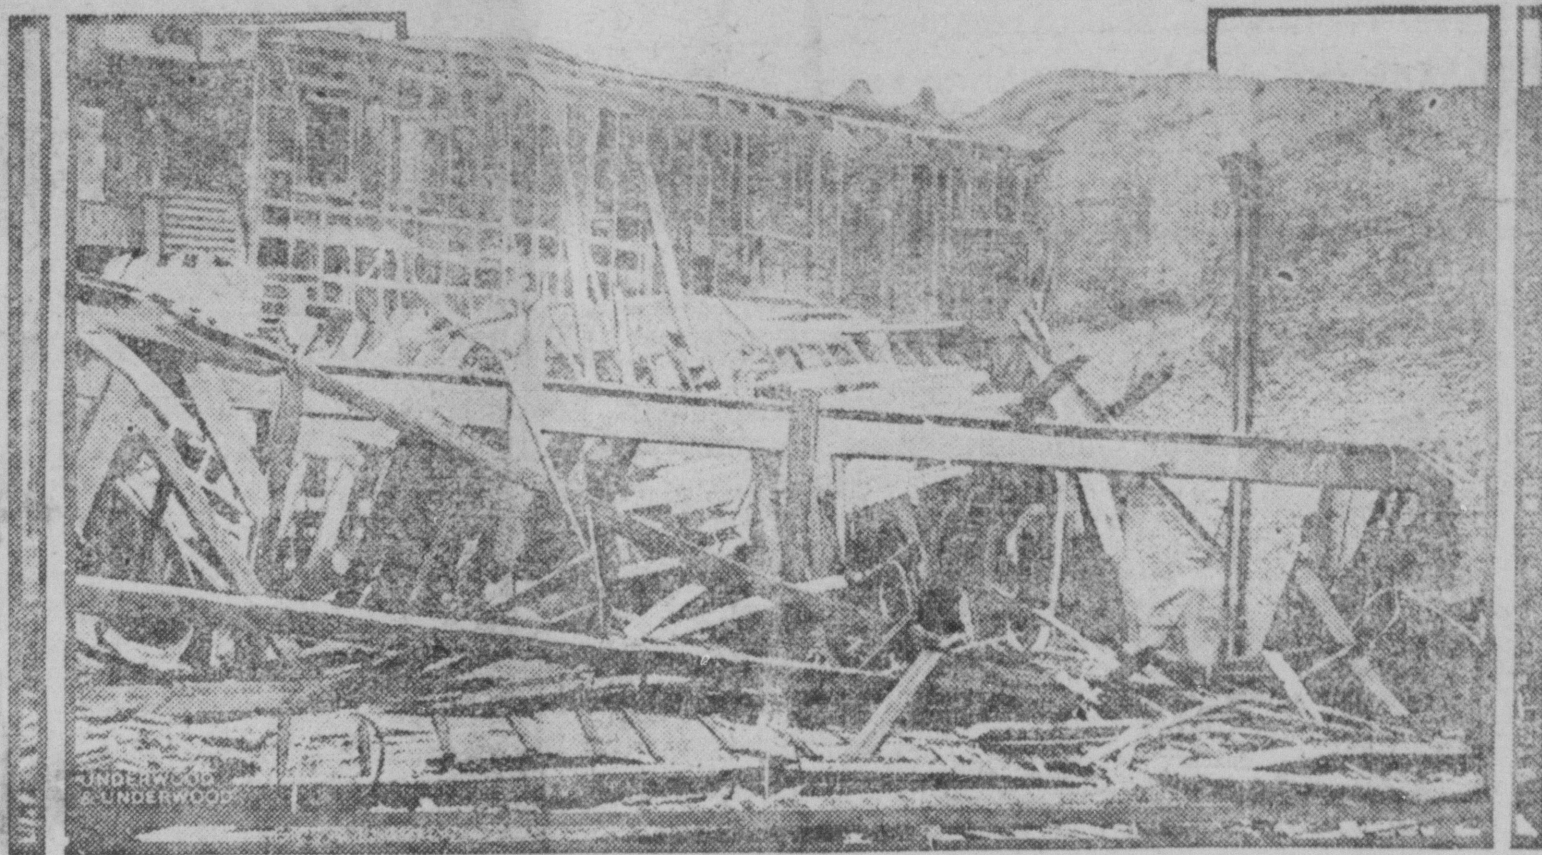

Rene Menard, a commercial aviator and former French flying ace, was making the run from Paris to Amsterdam alone in a big freight-carrying Farman plane when the plane caught fire. The gas tank was likely to explode, but with one hand before his eyes and the other hand on the wheel, Menard kept the flames away from the petrol supply by a series of drops until he reached the ground near St. Quentin. His hands were so badly burned that he was unable to unbuckle his belt. He lay across the tank while the flames burned far enough through the leather so that he could break it and roll clear. A moment later the tank exploded.

OLD FIDDLERS' CONTEST.

Entries for the Old Fiddlers' contest to be held at C. A. C. gym. Wednesday, March 10, started coming in at noon today and already nine local and nearby fiddlers have announced their intention of competing for the numerous prizes. In addition to the contest there will be old-time square dancing for the public and a number of vaudeville acts will be presented at intervals during the evening. Entries for the fiddlers' contest should be sent to the C. A. C. club room on Main street, Circleville.

Flames Wipe Out Iowa City's Only Playhouse

Our photograph shows the charred ruins of the Englert theater in Iowa City, Iowa, which burned at an estimated loss of $150,000, leaving the town and University of Iowa without a playhouse.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From Wires By Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Lorain—Two men were killed and four freight cars completely burned when a Lake Shore Electric train of freight cars jumped the track on a curve two miles west of Lorain at 7:30 o'clock Saturday.

The two men were members of the crew. They were burned to death.

Cleveland—Two firemen narrowly escaped being burned to death Friday when fire of mysterious origin gutted the Cleveland Fibre Furniture company building in Garfield Heights. The firemen were plunged into the basement of the burning building when the second floor collapsed. They were rescued by other firemen. The loss to the furniture company was placed at $40,000.

Toledo—A jury retired here Friday to appraise the love of a 57 year old farmer.

Mrs. Clara E. Starr, wife of the farmer, prices her husband's love, now extinct she says at $35,000.

Defense attorneys contended Starr's love was "worthless" and that if it ever existed, the defendant, pretty Mrs. Dorothy Schreiber Linsey did not steal it.

Columbus—Hearings before the public utilities commission on proposed rate increases of the Logan Gas company stood adjourned Friday, subject to recall. The increase if granted, would affect more than 70 towns and villages.

Norwalk—Altho still at large indictments charging first degree murder and shooting to kill, were returned against James and Leonard Lyons by the county grand jury.

The brothers are charged with the slaying of Frank E. McGarth, special agent of the American Railway Express company, at Havana, Ohio, February 18.

Toledo—Two aged men were burned to death, four persons were rescued and 17 were made homeless when fire swept a rooming house in the downtown section Saturday.

Two men perished while trying to fight their way to the street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shepherd, an aged couple and Leo, 2, and Sylvia, 6 months old, children of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Bridges, were carried to safety.

Mrs. Ed. H. Wardell and children Lloyd and Dorothy, of Wayne township, spent the day in Columbus.

THAD BROWN CLUB FORMED IN LAKEWOOD

Two Hundred Villagers Working for Secretary of State as the Next Governor.

One of the most enthusiastic political clubs of the present year has just been organized by the Republicans in Lakewood, Cuyahoga county, where more than 200 of the villagers have enlisted in the Thad-Brown-For Governor club.

James C. Reasner, former president of the Lakewood Republican club is president, and to make things unanimous the only Republican paper published in the city has come out in a strong editorial for the present secretary of state. There is no question about the strength of Colonel Brown in the campaign his friends are making for his nomination to head the state ticket this fall, and already claims are being made of those who want to have the honor of being the original Thad Brown boosters. One thing is certain that while perhaps Colonel Brown will not be in the position of other candidates and have an unlimited bank account, he has a stronger asset in the record he has made in public life. And don't for a moment think the voters of Ohio don't look back of the bank roll and into the individual record of the candidate.

NEWS ABOUT COURT HOUSE

General Happenings Taken From the Records of the Various County Offices.

Granted Divorce.

In the divorce suit of Olcie I. Hughes against William V. Hughes in probate court, the defendant was granted a divorce in his answer and cross petition on charges of gross neglect and adultery. The parties were married in Springfield June 29, 1925, and have no children. M. C. Seyfert Jr., was plaintiff's attorney.

Appointed Administrator.

Lewis Dresbach has been appointed administrator of the estate of his father, George E. Dresbach.

Marriage License

Harry Bewton, 21, farmer, Waverly and Fern Peters, 16, Circleville. Father's consent.

ADMITTED TO PRACTICE LAW.

E. A. Wanner, editor of "Jeffrey Service" a paper issued at The Jeffrey Manufacturing company, Columbus, has been admitted to the bar and is now a full fledged lawyer. He married Miss Verna Neff, of this city, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Neff of East Union street.

Mr. Wanner had charge of the welfare department of the Jeffrey plant for a number of years. When he decided to study law, he discovered that he had to be a graduate of a high school before he could be admitted to the bar. He had not completed his work in the high school and went diligently to work studying at nights and also read law in the evening and passed a fine examination in school and was admitted to the bar.

TO STUDY GORILLA

Harry Rimmer, evangelist, author and lecturer, has announced his intention to head an expedition into the heart of Africa, where he will study the life and habits of the gorilla. This is the first practical demonstration of a fundamentalist minister seeking direct information on the absorbing question first propounded by Darwin in "The Descent of Man." The expedition will leave New York in June if present plans are not changed.

WITH SOUSA'S BAND.

Harold B. Stephens, soloist in Sousa's band, will arrive in Columbus March 9 after an absence of nine-years for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stephens, and other friends. At close of concert the tour with the band he will go direct to Long Beach, California, where he will locate and become a member of the Municipal band of that place.

Columbus—No reason could be given today for the suicide of Mrs. Anna Ruth Garey, 26, who ended her life Friday night at the home of her husband's mother's home, by swallowing poison.

BIG PAYROLL CAPTURED IN "WINDY CITY"

Thugs in Chicago Secure $90,000 at the International Harvester Company.

Chicago, March 5, (P)—A bandit gang raided the tractor works of the International Harvester company this afternoon sent a score of employes scurrying to cover under a blaze of rifle fire, scooped up the company's payroll of approximately $90,000 and made their escape in two automobiles.

Employes were quick to recover their nerve and the fleeing bandits were showered with bullets from windows of the plant.

John B. Daily, auditor; Frank Johnson, cashier, and Thayer Kennedy, a secretary were direct in line of the bandits' fire as they smashed their way thru the front door. Other employes said it was miraculous that none of the three was wounded as more than 30 shots were fired almost directly at them.

Kennedy was the first of the employes able to give a coherent story of the robbery. He related his experience as follows:

"The payroll had just been delivered. Daily and Johnson had taken it into the big glass case preparatory to paying the men off.

"Without a moment's warning the gang swarmed in the front door. From outside we heard a shot then several more. We found later these shots came from Jos. Gibbons, one of our watchmen, who was firing at the two sentries the bandits had left outside.

"The bandits who had come in thought the firing was in their direction, however and so they let go with rifles, revolvers and a sawed off shot gun.

They were aiming right at me and so I ducked under a desk. I saw three girls faint and the others dropped to the floor to hide.

"The leader of the gang wore a mask and carried a sawed off shotgun. With the butt of the gun he smashed his way into the cage and grabbed the money box. Then he used his butt again to smash thru the window and jumped out into the street.

"As soon as he had made his escape from the building the other members of the party hurried out the door, aiming their guns at us as they left, warning us to "be quiet."

"I was watching everything from under the desk and as soon as I was sure they were all out I ran to the cage and grabbed a revolver. Daily and Johnson, who had been hiding behind a door, did the same. We ran to the broken window and fired after the two automobiles but I doubt if we hit any of them."

A pedestrian was able to take the license number of one of the motor cars and hurried investigation disclosed the fact that the machine had been stolen Friday night.

Despite the fact that at least 39 shots were fired it was believed no one was hit.

FARMERS' READING.

Columbus, Ohio, March 6, (UP) The Ohio Farmers' reading season is now at its height, judging by the deluge of requests for bulletins and circulars coming into the agricultural publications office at the Ohio State university.

To maintain the 800 bulletins sent out daily, takes 22 tons of paper, enough to make a carload, during the last fiscal year, according to the annual report of J. E. McClintock, head of the agricultural publications department.

The Home Painter

When painting anything at all be sure that the first coat is dry before applying the second. You will only waste time and paint and make a poor job of it if the surface is not thoroughly dry.

WASHINGTON SPECIALS

Washington, March 4.—(U.P.)—The dizzy drop of the New York stock market is due to the manipulation of professional traders and will not effect prosperity of banks and business houses, Chairman Smoot, of the Senate finance committee, who usually expresses the view of the administration when he speaks upon financial matters, declared today. "Bankers and business men are paying no attention to the market," the Utah senator told the United Press, "because they know they will not be affected."

Demand for enacting legislation placing agriculture on an equality with other industries was made today before the House agriculture committee by Governor John Hamill, Iowa. "It is unfair," Hamill declared, "to require one-third of the people to feed the other two-thirds at a loss. Agriculture is not asking for paternalism but simply seeks establishment of machinery to help it. If the proper aid is extended to agriculture, it will soon be able to stand on its own feet."

A convention between the United States and Cuba for prevention of liquor smuggling was signed today at Havana.

Physicians have ordered Senator Charles E. Curtis, Republican floor leader, Kansas, to go South immediately for his health and he will leave Washington this afternoon for Florida. Curtis has been suffering from quinsy for several weeks. He was confined to his bed, but returned to the Senate a few days ago.

Establishment of a forestry experiment station in the Ohio-Mississippi valley to encourage growth of timber in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and parts of Kentucky, Tennessee and Iowa, was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio. An appropriation of $30,000 was asked.

A new reclamation relief program has been worked out by the Senate irrigation bloc and Secretary Work, by which the government will finance settlers upon Western irrigation projects. Arrangements have been made whereby a bill will be introduced shortly authorizing an appropriation of $500,000 for distribution to settlers under Work's direction. The interior department bill will be held until the authorization is adopted and then provision for the appropriation will be made in it, according to present plans.

The so-called all-American ship canal connecting the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean running across New York state and down the Hudson river from Albany was described in a special report to the war department today "as feasible but not economically desirable."

Cancer Did Not Kill Napoleon, Says Physician

Leeds, England. — Napoleon the Great did not die of cancer, declared Sir Berkeley Moynihan, a well-known surgeon of Leeds, addressing the Leeds Luncheon club.

"I have had the opportunity of examining the viscera of Napoleon and found that there was absolutely no trace of cancer," he said.

Sir Berkeley, speaking of the increase in cancer of the tongue, caused chiefly by smoking, said:

"At present women are almost exempt, but I think they have a future in that direction, in view of the rapid spread of the smoking habit among girls, their mothers and their aunts."

FREE SPEECH

At University of Minnesota To Be Asked of Legislature.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 4.—(U.P.)—Petitions said to contain hundreds of undergraduates' signatures were circulated on the University of Minnesota campus today, protesting arbitrary barring of speakers, proposing to speak before students on the campus.

Denial of the right to speak before student assemblies within the last week to Scott Nearing, noted radical, and Dr. W. B. Riley, fundamentalist minister, stirred students to the action.

Dr. Riley is also taking a hand in the matter, threatening to ask for a court injunction against the university administration and to go before the legislature to fight for free speech at the state institution.

APPROPRIATE PLANS

The fact that the session of the

National Grange in Maine next November will be the 60th annual gathering of this oldest of all farm organizations will be made the occasion for a great jubilee event, attracting farm leaders from all parts of the nation. Not only is the class to receive there the seventh degree likely to break all records but vigorous declarations of policy will then be made, indicating future Grange fighting lines on behalf of agriculture and the rural interests. Men prominent in the councils of the nation are also expected to address the convention.

CRIST'S NEW COATS SHOW WHAT IS CORRECT FOR SPRING

Crist's Coats are known for their good looks. To view our showing is like seeing the most notables in a "Who's Who" of fashions.

PERMIT US TO INTRODUCE

Here you see the very smart twill coat, known everywhere by its very dashing flares, its smart short cape, or its very becoming straight line silhouette—as well as by its fur trimmed collar and its use of gay new spring colors.

There is the fashionable topcoat, two branches of the family being in evidence for spring—the semi-dress topcoat with its full back flaring from the shoulder, and the more severe mannish topcoat with tailored collar and long notched lapels.

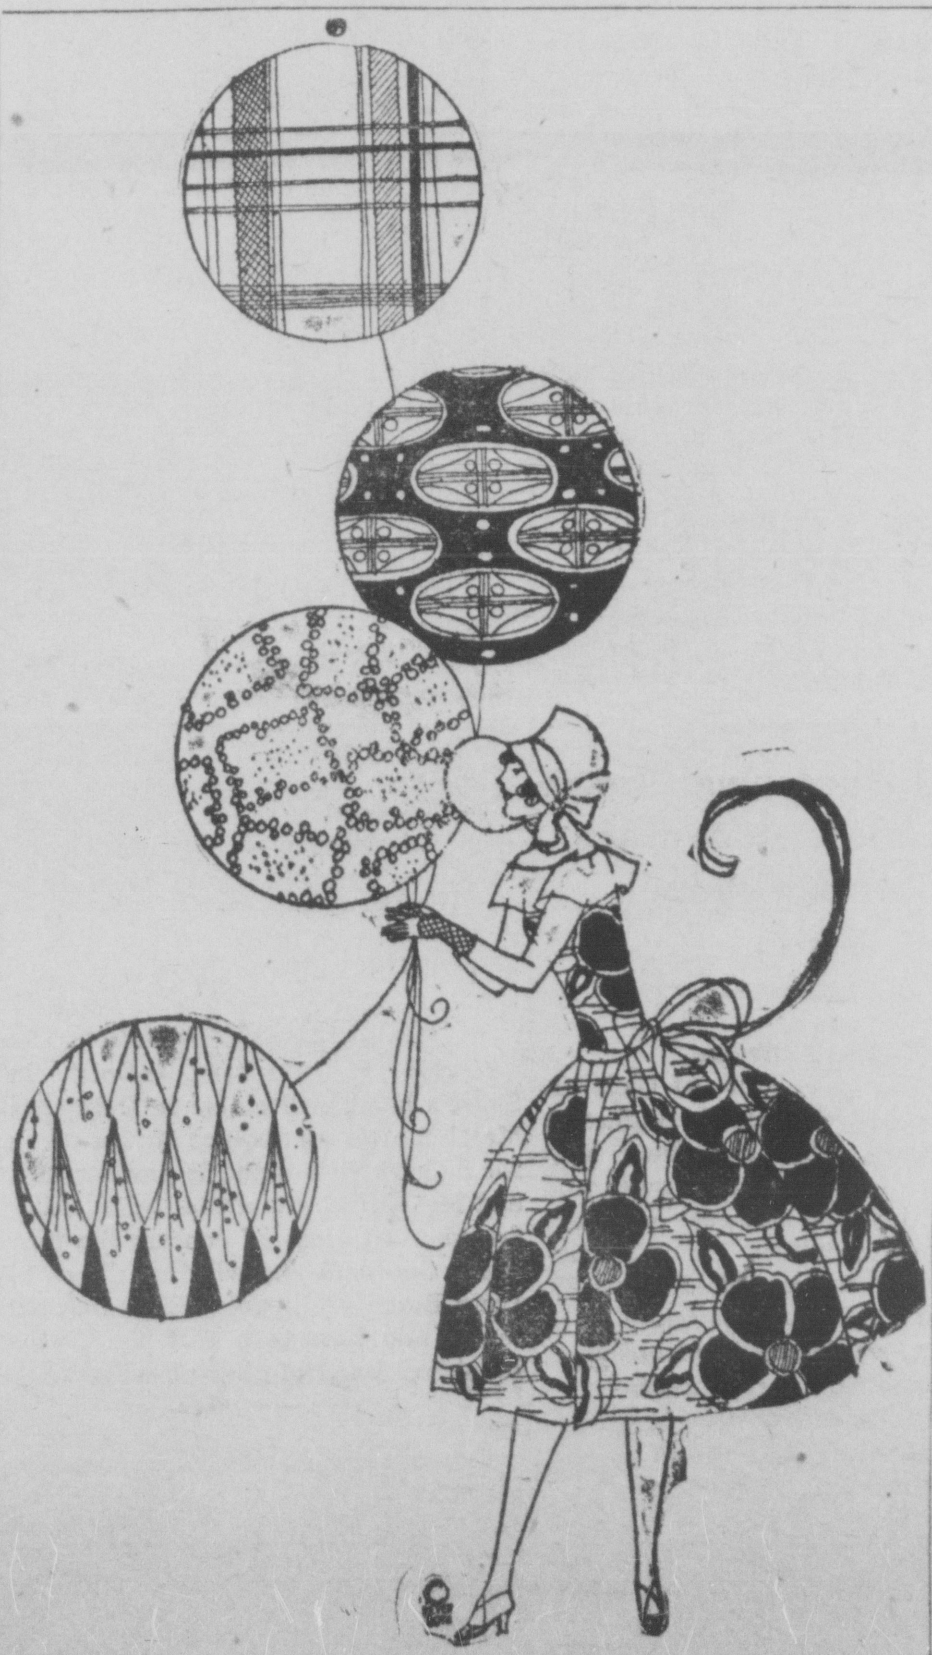

And the very newest arrival, the cape coat which consists of a straight coat surmounted by a jaunty cape.—Prices from $14.00 to $59.50. New colors—Veronica, Blue, Cinderella, Rose, Tan, Thistledown, Gray, Vernata, Green. New Fabrics—Fine sheens for dress, Smart Plaids, Tweed Mixtures, Tweeds in decorative designs.

Recommending Wooltex for their Excellent Quality.

Wooltex coats are always well tailored. We will gladly show you all their points of excellence and explain how the Wooltex label guarantees you satisfaction.

Monday, The Wooltex Representative will be with us with a full line of Wooltex, Sunshine and Peggy Paris Coats. Anyone interested in a Spring Coat is invited to see this exclusive line. No extra charge for special orders.

Walter Highland Called To Lorain To Give Pointers On Legion Convention.
Chillicothe, March 5.—Walter Highland, of the local post of the American Legion and who was in charge of the Legion convention committee which handled the affairs of the convention here last summer, left for Lorain, Ohio, where he will hold conference with officials of the Lorain post regarding the convention to be held there this summer.
The efficient way in which the local committee handled last year's affair led state officials of the Legion to request Mr. Highland to confer with Lorain post officials in an advisory capacity. If the Legionaires could foresee as clever an entertainment as the Post in ye ancient metropolis staged, it's "dollars to doughnuts" that every man Jack will attend the naughty twenty-six reunion.

PROSECUTOR IS SURE HE HAS THE MURDERER OF TWO
Herron Mystery Believed Solved With Arrest of Negro Who Was Near Scene of Crime.
Steubenville, March 4.—"I believe we have the right man," declared Prosecutor Roy N. Merryman tonight, after several persons identified John Cook, 27, as the negro seen in the vicinity of the farm where Robert Herron and his sister, Nettie, were found slain Wednesday. Cook has denied any knowledge of the crime. It was learned today that Cook was employed as a farmhand on the Herron farm two years ago. Mrs. J. C. Maxwell and her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Clutter of Winterville, tonight identified Cook as the man who spent half an hour in their confectionery Tuesday afternoon, a short time after the murder is supposed to have been committed. The statements of the women corroborate Coroner Arch L. Bell, who saw Cook board a bus near the Herron farm Tuesday and leave it at Winterville. Cook was confronted with the rope and bloody mattock tonight, but said he had never seen them before. A blood-stained cap which he wore when arrested was sent to a Pittsburgh chemist for examination. The double funeral of the murder victims will be held Saturday.

PROMISING YOUNG LIFE TERMINATED

Miss Catherine Chambers Passed Away Friday at Home of Her Parents.

Miss Mary Catharine Chambers died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Chambers, 220 East Mound street, Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Her death was due to leukaemia.

The deceased was born in Pickaway township, September 20, 1908, and was the daughter of Samuel B. and Sarah Jane Gayman Chambers.

She was to be a graduate from the Circleville high school this year. She was also the pianist for the Epworth League of the Methodist church.

Besides her parents she is survived by two brothers; Gayman Chambers, of Columbus, and Hunter Chambers, of Bristol, Tennessee.

The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at the M. E. church at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. A. H. Beardsley assisted by Rev. E. K. Johnson, of Newark, will officiate. Interment in the Kingston cemetery.

AGRICULTURAL PROSPECTS FOR NEXT SEASON

Columbus, O., March 6, (UP) — A preliminary survey of agricultural prospects for the coming season, says director of agriculture Charles V. Truax, reveals the fact that a reasonable supply of all feed grains will be available thruout the summer. The outlook for livestock is for an increase in numbers with reasonable prices prevailing, it was the opinion of the director.

The closing weeks of winter find farms in a normal condition with a more prosperous future with the advent of the spring planting season.

x x HARTMAN THEATER. x x x x x x x x x x

"The Student Prince" the most sumptuous operetta ever produced by the Messrs. Shubert and considered the crowning musical achievement of a decade, will begin a week's engagement at the Hartmen theater, Columbus, Monday night, March 8, at 8:15.

It will be remembered that when this fascinating musical play was presented here earlier in the season an extra matinee had to be given to accommodate the crowds wishing to witness it.

The company that will present the operetta is the Chicago cast and chorus which has been playing at the Great Northern theater for more than a year and is headed by Dixon Frasier, the well known tenor in the role of the prince, and Eileen Van Biene, popular prima-donna in the role of Kathie. Other well known artists in the cast are Eddie Garvie, Patricia Ann Manners, Georgie Mack Evelyn Darville, Walter McNally, Ann Carey, Otis Sheridan, Charlotte Granville, Walter Tenny, James Phillips, Clyde Moffet, John Goldsworthy, Timothy Daley, James Murray and others of note. The famous male chorus and the charming altos and sopranos all go to make up an organization of more than 125 trained singers.

It will be recalled that the story is about the young Prince Karl Franz, who is sent away to Hendeberg for a year of study, only to be recalled to Karlsburg and the throne upon the untimely death of his aged grandfather, the king. In the meanwhile he has fallen in love with Kathie, a pretty waitress at the Inn of the Three Golden Apples, and altho his troth is plighted to the Princess Margaret Alexis, his cousin, whom he eventually marries, he never forgets Little Kathie, and in one of the sweetest and most touching scenes ever written, he goes back to the Inn looking for the sweetheart of his student days, but finds she is engaged to wed another. The thrilling, soul-stirring musical score by Sigmund Romberg has never been equalled.

Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday afternoon at 2:15. Mail orders now.

Just a Lover's Quarrel

By CYNTHIA BLAIR

(Copyright.)

"BUT Ned's wrong!" protested Helena Deland, dropping down on the top step of the porch, and tossing her big sun hat from her so hard that it fell into the bed of petunias nearby. "He just simply won't listen to reason. We've argued for three days over this thing, and I'm just about ready to tell him that I'm through! It seems queer, when we love each other so much, that we could quarrel so over a little bit of a thing. But when I realize how stubborn he is—"

"Yes, I know, but—well, just listen to a little story that I'm going to tell you." Granny leaned back in her low chair, rocking gently back and forth for a moment, looking off over the gay little garden as if she didn't see it at all, but saw far into the past instead. "This happened when your grand-father and I were on our honeymoon," she began at last; the faint creaking of a board beneath her chair made a soft accompaniment to her voice. "We went abroad, though everybody told us that it was just tempting fate for a newly married couple to take such a long trip. Traveling is so hard on people's dispositions! We got along beautifully, though, all through England and France."

"Then we went to Italy. It was pretty warm there, and pretty dirty. "Well, we left Venice one very hot evening to go to Florence. We'd expected to have a sleeping compartment, but somehow when we got on the train there wasn't one."

"How about it, Em? your grand-father said. 'Are you game to go on anyhow?'"

"I said I was. We were going to stop in Florence just a few days, and then start home, and I was getting anxious to go. I wanted to come back to my new little house here, you see, and really settle down. So we went right on. It meant sitting up all night, as there were two other persons in the compartment that we had to take, which was big enough for six; we could just sort of lie down, but that was all."

"Well, at first it wasn't so bad, though the train was pretty dirty. After awhile, just as we were leaving a town, Tom leaned forward—he was sitting across from me—and said:—"

"Em, did you notice the name of that town we just left? I'd like to know where we are on the map."

"It happened I'd noticed the sign over one of the doors. 'Yes, it was Intrata,' I said, 'or Intrata.'"

"When we got to the next town he looked out, as we went right through. 'That was Uscita,' he said, 'but I can't find it on the map.'"

"We didn't stop at the next town either, but I saw the sign over one of the doors there. Tom didn't."

"Why, Tom, you were wrong about that last town," I told him. "This one we've just gone through was Uscita."

"It couldn't be; that was the name of the last one," he answered, sort of short with me.

"Well, we argued about it. I told him I could believe my own eyes, I guessed, never remembering that he was sensitive about being near-sighted, and he said he'd learned to read when he was five—he was always awfully proud of that—and he couldn't be mistaken."

"Well, finally, I just stopped talking. 'Maybe I'm crazy,' I said to him, 'but I know what I saw over that door. I'm not going to talk about it any longer.'"

"He leaned back in his corner with the most exasperated look on his face that I ever saw. 'I don't have to talk any more,' he said. 'I know that I was right.'"

"When we came to the next town we were both pretty eager to see what the name of it was. We leaned way out of the window. And over the first door of the station it said 'Intrata' or 'Entrata.' I never did get that word quite straight in my mind, and over the next one it said 'Uscita.'"

"We just looked at each other as if we'd lost our minds. And then Tom went into the next compartment, where there was a man who'd stayed at the hotel where we were in Venice who spoke Italian. He came back laughing fit to kill."

"We were both right, Em," he said. "And we were both wrong. One of those words means 'Entrance' and the other means 'Exit.'"

She laughed softly at the little picture memory had brought up, and Helena laughed with her.

Other thoughts came swarming to her. Grandpa'd been gone for five years now, and no matter how hard granny tried to fill her days with interest in her grandchildren and her garden and her charities, there were many times when she just sat looking at grandpa's picture and thinking of him. She was lonely then; one look at her sweet little face made that plain enough.

Suddenly Helena jumped up, snatched her hat out of the petunias and put it on hind side before with out even noticing that fact.

"Thanks, granny," she cried, hastily kissing the old lady's cheek. "It's almost lunch time and Ned will be coming home. I've got to get there first and make a shortcake for him—and be waiting when he gets there to tell him we're both right!"

GLEE CLUB OF WESLEYAN IS IN CONTEST

Delaware, O., March 6, (UP) —Ohio colleges and universities were represented in the national intercollegiate glee club contest held in New York today by the Ohio Wesleyan university glee club, winners of the fourth annual Ohio Intercollegiate Glee club contest held here February 19.

The Ohio Wesleyan club made the trip to New York in a special Pullman car which also served as their hotel during their stay in New York. Professor Guy L. McLean, director of the club and 24 students made the trip. They stopped at Washington yesterday enroute to New York, for a concert.

The Ohio Wesleyan Glee club will make several records for a nationally known recording company while in New York.

AMUSEMENTS

A picture of undoubted import to this year's motion picture contributions is "Sun-Up" which comes to the Met theater on Monday. It is a Metro Goldwyn-Mayer picture and was directed by Edmund Goulding.

Goulding is well known as a writer and scenarist. He has written the best seller "Fury," several of the starring vehicles for Mae Murray, and is co-author of "Dancing Mothers," one of the most successful plays now running in its second year in New York.

"Sun-Up" as conceived for the stage by Lula Vollmer, created a sensation on the stage in New York and on tour with Lucille La Verne playing the part of "Ma" Cagle, the same role she interprets in the screen version. According to advance reports the screen version is even more powerful in its dramatic sweep than the stage play.

Those two favorites, Pauline Starke and Conrad Nagel are featured in lead ing roles. Nagel plays the part of the lawless mountain boy to whom understanding comes thru contact with the outer world gained during the war. Miss Starke is his sweetheart and is said to give her finest and most sympathetic performance in an exceedingly difficult role.

George K. Arthur gets away from the type of role he has been playing as the "stranger." He characterizes an army deserter who is sheltered by "Ma" Cagle during her son's absence in the army.

Other members of the cast are Arthur Rankin, Sam De Grasse, Edward Connelly and Bainard Beckwith.

IF YOU HAVE A DAUGHTER

Did you ever stop to think what effect the furnishings of your daughter's bed room will have upon her? Make her room so attractive that she will want to stay at home, and will want her girl friends to come and see her room.

We have a beautiful six piece bed room suite that would make a very attractive suite for a young lady's room. It is far more attractive than the one shown above. We have no picture of the one we have in mind. The suite consists of bed, vanity, low-boy, bench, rocker, and night-table. It is made of Wild Cherry veneers in combination with other woods. The finish is known as Blistered Cherry. It is very beautiful and we want you to come and see it. The price? We almost forgot about that.

All six pieces for less than $300—$285.00, to be exact with a discount of $14.25, if you pay cash. We have but one suite in Cherry and cannot promise delivery of any more within four months. That's how well this suite is selling elsewhere. So, don't delay, but come in right away and order it sent out for the daughter's room.

GREAT WASTE IN PRINTING STATE BOOKS

Committee Finds Tons of Unwanted Documents and Reports in State House.

Members of the Legislative Printing for Economy in public printing, have discovered what they believe to be a good reason for carrying on their work.
In the basement of the state house the members, while making a tour on investigation, discovered pile upon pile of old state reports and documents which have lain there for years unused and unwanted. Some dated back to administrations of the late nineties and the early part of the present century. They were printed with the expectation that there might be a call. When this did not come they were simply laid away so as not to take up space in the office of the different state departments. There they have been since. Enough were found to load a truck and perhaps require a second load.
The committee believes that this same practice may be going on now. If it is the members propose to stop it and have nothing printed except that for what there is a demand and will be used. In this way it is figured thousands upon thousands of dollars can be saved each year.

Senators James R. Hopley, Bucyrus chairman; C. C. Chapplear, Circleville, secretary and Harry M. Carpenter, Steubenville, compose the membership.

MOONSHINERS IN THE HILLS NEAR ATHENS

Athens, O., March 5, (UP).— From out of the maze of rocky declivities surrounding Athens, prohibition agents again came today, this time riding two trucks required to transport the produce of another moonshine raid.

The raid was the eleventh of sensational nature in this region within the month. It netted six giant stills, 1000 gallons of mash and a mass of other liquor making apparatus.

The raiders were led by State Dry Inspector H. A. Sines, who in his latest anti-liquor crusade, besieged an old mine near Doanville. The apparatus was discovered in the mine after the supposed moonshiners—numbering three, Sines said, fled.

The abandoned mine was only one of a score being put to a similar use, Sines declared.

"The mine is the hardest we've struck, to get into and the easiest for the operators to escape," he said.

Within three days Sines' men swam into two flooded mines and after groping about thru hundreds of feet of water filled passages, emerged with dismantled stills.

"The men operating the stills escape every time," Sines said. "We are not acquainted with the topography of the country and naturally encounter difficulties in corralling them."

Threads that set off alarm clocks were used in warning some of the distillers when officers approached the old mines, Sines said, adding that his men had found entrances to subterranean chambers in dirty hog pens, under overturned automobiles and in movable shrubbery.

First Italian Opera
The first Italian opera, as distinguished from a musical drama, was "Daphne," which was produced by the Society of the Alterati in a private house in Florence in 1596. The music was by Caccini and Peri.

MRS. REMUS

Taking Depositions To Refute Charges Made Against Her By Her Bootlegger Husband.

Atlanta, Ga., March 4.—(UP.)—Seeking to obtain evidence in refutation of charges made by her husband, millionaire ex-convict and bootlegger king, that she was intimate with Franklin P. Dodge, former department of justice agent, Mrs. George Remus subpoenaed 21 witnesses to make depositions today.

Dodge was the agent who investigated affairs at the federal prison last year when it was alleged Remus and other wealthy prisoners were given special privileges.

The divorce action will be heard in Cincinnati soon.

HUMAN SHIELD

Killed In Gun Battle Between Policeman and Gunman.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 4.—(UP.)—Used as a shield by a policeman in a pistol battle with a negro gunman, a second negro was shot to death and the policeman and his opponent were wounded today.

The dead man, Wilbert McQueen, arrested by Patrolman Wilbur Jones as a hold-up suspect was fired on by Frank Harris, McQueen's companion. Holding McQueen in front of him as a shield Jones returned Harris' fire, wounding him with two bullets in the chest. One of Harris' bullets struck the policeman in the arm, another striking McQueen in the abdomen, wounding him fatally.

Has Nerves—Death Watch Driving Him Mad.

Manila, P. I., March 4.—(UP.)—Constant pacing of the death watch guards past the barred windows of his cell is rapidly breaking down the mind and health of Lieutenant John Thompson, sentenced to die for the murder of his sweetheart, Audrey Burleigh.

A missionary friend of the family visited Thompson and found him pacing his cell on the verge of a nervous collapse. The prisoner pleaded for the removal of the guard declaring the monotonous tramping was driving him insane.

Military authorities are awaiting President Coolidge's official confirmation of the court-martial sentence before setting the date of the execution.

"EVERYBODY'S DOING IT"

Benton, Ill., March 4.—(UP.)—This town has discovered the Charleston.

The whole town is so wild about it that everybody including the sheriff, turned out for a contest last night.

As a result the six prisoners in the county jail here walked out. Today not only the sheriff but all the candidates for that office at the next election and half the Charleston fans turned out to look for them.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?
"A very difficult question," the President calls the traffic casualties of the time. The figures that he cites—24,000 persons killed in a year upon the streets and highways of the country, and probably more than 500,000 injured. This means that over a period of the same length as our participation in the world war Americans are losing three-fourths as many lives on streets and roads as they lost to German bullets, and running up in addition a non-fatal casualty list thrice as great as they did abroad.
"The president has asked all the governors to appoint delegates to a national safety convention to assemble in March. While we know of no formula to meet the situation he has outlined the conference may write history by focusing public attention on the national aspects of a problem made up of a multitude of incidents at street corners and cross roads. Many communities are at work seeking and applying remedies.
The figures set forth in this article certainly ought to be a very convincing argument for

Soy Beans Best Planted in Rows
Make More Seed and Hay Per Acre Than Drilled or Broadcast.
In many sections where soy beans are not well known and are not grown extensively, many farmers have asked for information about how to plant the beans for best results. E. C. Blair, extension agronomist at the North Carolina State college, states that the beans will do better if planted in rows. Grown this way, the beans make more seed and more hay per acre than when drilled or broadcast.
Contain Much Weed Seed.
At the Mountain Branch station near Swannanoa, the hay from soy beans planted broadcast contained 50 per cent or more of weeds, while there were no weeds in the hay where the beans were cultivated in rows. Planting in rows also requires only half as much seed.
"Land to be planted in soy beans should be well broken and worked into a good seed bed," says Mr. Blair. "This careful preparation will pay better for soy beans than for most other crops. Run the rows three feet apart and place the fertilizer in the rows. The best fertilizer is 300 to 400 pounds per acre of 12-0-4 or the same amount of a 12-2-4 on poor soils. Mix the fertilizer in the soil to avoid burning the seed. Forty pounds of Mammoth Yellow, 15 pounds of Virginia or ten pounds of Laredo beans will plant an acre in rows three feet apart. Plant the beans with a corn planter, using a plate that drops a seed every six inches. For the small seeded varieties, use a plate with small holes. Plant the beans level and cover lightly. They will not come up if covered deeply, nor will they come through a hard crust."

Three Cultivations.
Mr. Blair states that cultivation should begin when the plants are from five to six inches high. Three cultivations are usually enough but more should be given if necessary to control grass and weeds. By following these suggestions, Mr. Blair believes that the grower can have success with the soy bean crop.

Orchardists Prepare to Fight Armies of Pests
Farmers are making ready for the annual defense against the onslaught of great armies of pests which attack fruit trees.
In their preparation they are heeding the two mistakes which heretofore have been most commonly made in spraying, that of failing to spray at the proper time and lack of thorough work. They are planning to do the job up right this year.
While it is difficult to lay down any hard and fast rules with regard to spraying, James G. Moore, horticulturist of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture points out a few fundamental facts which can be followed. The spray commonly used for general work is made up by mixing five quarts of lime sulphur and one pound of arsenate of lead in fifty gallons of water.
The first spray is commonly called "pink spray" and should be used just before the blossom buds open. Care should be taken not to spray with poison when the blossoms are open.
The second spray, called "calyx spray," should be applied just as soon as the petals fall and before the calyx cup closes. A third spray should be applied fifteen or eighteen days later, and the fourth application about the middle of August on late varieties.

Disease Control
Disease control and sanitation are most important in poultry management. Lack of knowledge of the presence of disease and the method of combating it or the non-application of this knowledge has caused many flocks to be destroyed in a very short time. The loss is enormous and yet is preventable.
There is one absolute rule in poultry sanitation and disease control.
Time to Apply Manure
Midwinter is the time of the year when both the garden and orchard should be covered with barnyard manure. If it is hauled out and distributed as it is made about the barns and sheds, the soil will absorb nearly all of the plant nutrients contained in it. Twenty tons per acre for the vegetable garden and bramble patch and five to ten tons per acre for the orchard make a fair application.

Handling Seed Corn
Seed corn should be carefully sorted and prepared for planting during the slack winter months. It is an excellent plan before this is done to take kernels from 100 or 200 representative ears for a germination test. This will frequently give valuable indications as to how much sorting must be done. The state seed laboratory at Manhattan, Kan., will germinate the samples free of charge.

Time to Fight Scale
Again it is the time of year to spray the orchard for San Jose scale. This can only be done while the orchard is dormant, and the best time is in the late winter. A strong spray can be applied at that time, which will kill the scale but will not injure the tree. Oil scaleicides are most suitable and most effective.

Early American History
The Continental congress was in session at intervals from September 5, 1774, to October 21, 1788, at Philadelphia; Baltimore; Lancaster, Pa.; York, Pa.; Princeton, N. J.; Annapolis, Md.; Trenton, N. J., and New York city and was served throughout its history by 16 Presidents, including John Hancock, elected thirteenth President in 1785, but who was sick and did not serve.

"Heart of the Dream" Sunday Evening—Public is Cordially Invited.

"The Heart of the Dream" will be presented by Christian Endeavorers of the Presbyterian church Sunday evening, March 7, at 7 o'clock.

Story in Brief.

We all have a dream or an ideal, but sometimes, because of our eagerness to attain success and wealth, we think only of our own selfish interests, and our dream or ideal dies. The church personified restores our dream and proves to us that in every phase of life, the spirit of love must reign in order to make a perfect dream. This story is beautifully illustrated by the following people:

Famous Old Bell

Bells were used in very ancient times by the Jews, Greeks and Romans. The great bell at Moscow, Russia, was cast in 1736, and cracked in the following year. Its weight is said to be about twelve tons. The metal in the bell is estimated to be worth $330,000. When it was being cast gold and silver are said to have been thrown into the molten mass as votive offerings.

CIRCLEVILLE BOYS VISITED NELSONVILLE

Order of Jerusalem Conferred on Class of Fourteen in Athens County.

Friday night, March 5, fourteen members of chapter No. 3, Kappa Sigma Pi, conferred the degree, The Order of Jerusalem, on eleven charter members of the Nelsonville chapter. At 6 o'clock the thoughtful mothers of the Nelsonville chapter served a sumptuous dinner to the members of both organizations. The decorations were worked out in the K. S. P. colors.

The local boys have spent much time in preparation for this work and were in fine form. It was presented in a most impressive manner. The new chapter has a fine group of clean cut, straightforward young men and we bespeak for them great success in their new venture in trying to raise the standards of living in their community.
